

THE GLEICHEN CALL

VOLUME XXXII NO. 27

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 20, 1939

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

URGENT MEETING BOARD OF TRADE MONDAY NIGHT

To all members of the Gleichen Board of Trade.

Dear Fellow Members:
We pledged ourselves, last spring, to undertake the planting of a park and to erect a swimming pool. Steps have been taken by your executive toward that end. But it is essential that we have a well represented meeting to discuss the same and to nominate the various committees so necessary to carry out our plans.

We would therefore urge every member and associate member or any other citizen of Gleichen interested in Board of Trade work, to attend our organization meeting next Monday night at 8.30 in the Club Room of the Community Hall.

Some work, particularly regarding the park must be done this fall and it is absolutely necessary for us to meet on Monday in order that this work get underway.

Sincerely yours,
W. SUTERMEISTER,
Pres. Gleichen Board of Trade.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

BY H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department
Searle Grain Company, Limited

War with its ruthless destruction of cherished possessions, and a new life, is occurring in our Canada, with the other members of the British Commonwealth of Nations standing side by side with Great Britain and her allies against Hitlerism and Nazism.

The war will be bitter and cruel, and perhaps long if the forces of righteousness, of truth, of liberty, and of freedom, which we stand for, are to prevail. It will require an extraordinary number of the Empire's young manhood in the battle lines, and so will require too the unwavering and intense efforts of practically every man and woman serving on the home front, in one capacity or another to supply the soldiers in battle with food, medical services, munitions, an equipment.

We have no quarrel with the people of Germany still less with those of German descent who are working peacefully in our midst in Canada. Our desperate fight is simply against Hitlerism and Nazism, with its fierce determination to win by brute force more and more territory of small peaceful nations, and so more and more power. We oppose, too, the philosophy of Nazism that the concentration camp is the only solution of the world's problems. We differ with their government merely in matters of religious or political belief.

The Crop Testing Plan has just concluded the analysis of 24,000 wheat samples, each of which represents a farmer's field of wheat. While large number of excellent true-to-variety fields were found, yet on the other hand the tests revealed that thousands of farmers are losing money by producing crops which are made up of mixtures of of unsuitable varieties. These poor mixtures, and mixtures not only lower the farmer's yields and grades; hence loss of money, but as well tend to lower the general quality of the Canadian wheat. Farmers, therefore, who have "O's" and "mixtures" in the Crop Testing Plan tests, or other farmers who may be in doubt about the quality of their crops, should certainly not continue to sow poor money-losing seed, but should now lay their plans to secure more suitable stock for next spring's sowing.

In almost every district there are professional seed growers with moderately priced registered certified seed to sell. There are also in each district farmers who have in their bins true to variety Crop Testing plan "A" stocks, which can usually be purchased by neighboring farmers at a modest premium.

High quality wheat is a vital war necessity for Canada, Great Britain and their Allies.

Twelve Local Men Have Been Accepted For Military Service

So far as it is known twelve men from Gleichen and surrounding district have actually enlisted. A number of others have made application to get into the different branches of the service but were unable to do so either because of some disability which they suffered or the quota was filled.

The following are those who have enlisted and as far as it is known in what branch:

Wm. MacCallum, air force.
Art. Peacock, army service corps.
Wm. Osler, coast artillery, Esquimalt, B. C.
J. W. Desjardine, coast artillery, Esquimalt, B. C.
Russell Jackson, 91st Battery.
J. Guttrath, Highlanders.
Nat. Gregory.
Wm. Forsythe.
Jack Stock.
The late Kraft.
Gilbert Page.

All of the last five named were employees at Eventide Home and enlisted last week. Some of them may have been on the staff for some years.

The guarding of the Armouries, twenty four hours a day has been taken over by members of the Canadian Legion, some of whom are members of the Battery. By this charge all the regular members of the Battery are released and are free to enlist for active service if they wish to do so. It is expected that in the near future a drive will be made to recruit the Battery up to full strength for active service.

With no active recruiting having taken place here the above number of enlistments for Gleichen seems to be very good.

which, is both constantly shifting and growing.
Those who would belong to Crash Club, may qualify by: exceeding their speed limit, ignoring the right of way, driving on the wrong side of the road, driving recklessly, refusing to signal, and by tutting in out of traffic.

The organization has no assets, but is strong on liabilities, which it lists as: Killed and injured. A number of the leading members are in hospitals and jails.

ITEMS OF INTEREST OF THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

J. E. Ostrander has some 30 extraordinarily large pumpkins in his garden. This is all the more remarkable when we consider the hail storm we had in July.

M. Murray, former town secretary and treasurer, is at present at patient in the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary.

In last issue of The Call we made (1) statement in regard to shooting regulations, the season which opens on September 20 at midday, "the use of automatic loading or pump guns is prohibited unless the magazine has been permanently plugged, or altered so that it cannot carry more than one cartridge at one time, with another in the breech." That is not correct. The regulations of sporting gun laws, appliances and hunting methods says: "The use of automatic (auto-loading) guns unless the magazine has been permanently plugged, or altered so that it cannot carry more than one cartridge, or snail, or machine gun, or battery, or any gun larger than number 10 gauge is prohibited, and the use of any aeroplane, powerboat, sail boat, live birds as decoys, night lights and shooting from any vehicle drawn by a draught animal or from a motor vehicle is forbidden. The hunting of migratory game birds on areas belted with grain or other artificial food is prohibited. The shooting of migratory game birds

THE RUM ISSUE

BY FRED JONES

This Column Given to News of the Gleichen Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Owing to the absence of the editor, The Rum Issue went quietly to sleep. As the secretary cannot give the time to print it The Gleichen Call has kindly agreed to donate this column to the interest of returned men and the new soldiers now joining up.

Since war was declared things have quietly gone ahead without the rum and excitement of 1914. The raising of some four thousand men will no doubt be completed well within the twenty-one days which will be up Saturday.

The new huts at Mewata Park in Calgary are practically completed with all modern conveniences which are somewhat different to the way many veterans can recall of life in Victoria Barracks during the last war.

We haven't figured out what they will do with the new Mewata pool. It has been rumored that it will be filled with disinfectant at intervals and the boys made to swim through it.

Up-to-date there has not been many veterans taken complete notice of those who have offered their services, but we expect that within a short time those who are not already employed, at least, will be accepted. Quite a number have already been enlisted or guard duty.

The 22nd Battery was not among the units receiving the first order for mobilization but it is quite likely that an order will soon be received. The 22nd was a fighting battery of the line and had a good record in the last war. So when it opens up for recruits we expect to quickly reach full strength with men who will live in it again and maintain that record.

There was a rumor around town that the Battery had ceased to exist but this was no doubt more wishful thinking on the part of some parents than actual fact. The 22nd got back too far in history to be just locked up and forgotten and while it might easily be moved it will be down to pieces by the enemy a few times yet before there is no one left to work the guns.

Quite a few Gleichen boys, some of them former members of the 22nd Battery, have already joined other units since mobilization. Wm. Osler and Wesley Desjardine have joined artillery units on the west coast; Raymond Desjardine and W. MacCallum have joined the flying corps; Jim Swain and Jack Lyons are signallers; B. Jackson 91st Battery and Jack Stabback R.A.M.C.

One of the first casualties of the war was George Walker, son of Mrs. Walker, of Gleichen, who took part in the raid on the Kiel Canal and was forced to land in neutral territory. Four companions, flying other planes are supposed to have been killed.

While the old soldiers' are over twenty years older, many of them have joined regular units. They are still fit. Many others who cannot pass this rigorous examination can help and will help where their experience and training can be of the greatest use and it is up to the Legion and every other veterans organization to see that every returned man now in need of work be put where he can regain his self respect while aiding his country.

When things get serious in the last war pictures appeared in some farm papers of rich men's sons standing beside a huge Rumley Oil Pull with which they were going to plow up the whole country and fill the grain bins of Europe, but somehow these farms and newly fledged farmers never again appeared in the public eye. Know the old Rumley oil pull?

One son got a sudden yearning to raise hogs. He went out west of Calgary with a couple of razor blades but there never was a glut of pork

British Army Command

Viscount Gort And General Ironside Have Brilliant Careers

With Viscount Gort, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., as his commander-in-chief, B.D.O.'s expeditionary force in France will be led by a real fighter who believes in and uses the most modern weapons of warfare. It is a safe prediction that he will encourage the adoption of new weapons and the method regardless of whether these are devised by his own staff, a junior officer or a civilian.

Gort is only 52 years old, is probably at the peak of his abilities as a soldier. His nickname, "Tiger Gort," is testimony to his energy and tirelessness. And the resilience of his mind is evidenced by his record in recent years.

It was under his direction that Britain's "new army" has been evolved. It is a highly mobile army with two types of "infantry" division, one motorized with three battalions in each of the three brigades and 50 Bren guns in each battalion, the other based on tanks as the offensive weapon. He reorganized the artillery for units, each with 15 guns instead of the old six, thus increasing firepower while decreasing the personnel. He instituted the selection and promotion of officers on merit instead of seniority. And he did his bit for the man in the ranks by eliminating superfluous kit, reducing the number of parade ground evolutions and increasing pay and rations.

General Sir Edmund Ironside, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., who succeeds Gort as Chief of the Imperial General Staff, is another strong believer in mechanization and mobility in the army. Physically he is probably the biggest general in the British army, and so was nicknamed "Tiger" by Canadian troops during the last war when he was chief staff officer of the Fourth Division. His career has been extraordinarily romantic career. At one time he served in the German army forces in Africa while a member of the British secret service. He is master of 20 languages and as many dialects. He is the man who picked a young Persian officer to lead an army division and thereby set in motion a train of events that resulted in that officer's becoming the Shah of Persia. He was commander-in-chief of the allied forces in North Russia, led a Greek army against the Turks, and succeeded Gen. Dunsterforce as leader of the famous Dnieper "hush" force on the Caspian sea. He is a fighter who brings imagination to play in handling a situation.

Gort and Ironside should make a great team—Edmonton Journal.

Growing Apples In West

Hardy Varieties Result From Experiments Being Carried On

A great deal of attention has been paid by the Horticultural Division, Dominion Experimental Farms, to the breeding of apples from various parts of Canada. One project has been the creation of harder kinds for the Northwest and very cold regions. For this purpose hybrids between the Siberian crab apple and commercial varieties have been employed. The first crosses have fruited, exhibiting a number of very hardy progeny. The "second" crosses, in reality a first generation back cross, exhibited less hardiness but increased size and quality. Several of these, however, showed sufficient hardiness to warrant the continuation of the experiment. About one hundred "second" cross crosses or "third" crosses have fruited, exhibiting full apple size and commercial quality. Several of these appear to possess more hardiness than the "second" crosses. While this work was started for the Northwest, "third" crosses appear promising as hardy sorts for the main fruit regions.

Many People Spend Unwisely And Give Future No Thought

A report from Los Angeles, says the Oshawa Times, that for many years it has been visited only by tourists who came to see its old houses and the remains of the city. On a height overlooking the bay stands a castle that was formerly the residence of the Duke of Pomerania. But to the Polish heart Puck is one of the most important names in history.

It was in 1462 that the decisive victory of Puck made Poland a great power. This pitched battle ended a contest of the raids and skirmishes carried on for twelve years by Casimir IV. against the Teutonic Knights. It drove them finally beyond the Vistula and gave Poland a seaboard. Until then the Teutonic Knights had been one of the strongest military organizations in Europe, a constant menace to the loose and feeble kingdom of Poland. After the battle of Puck they had no longer to fear the rise of great confederation. The conflict turned a new and brighter page in Polish history.

Cotton For Rubber

United States To Carry Out Agreement Of Exchange With Britain

The United States will go through with its agreement with Great Britain for the exchange of 600,000 bales of cotton for 175,000 tons of rubber.

The State Department announced that President Roosevelt issued a proclamation of the agreement between the two countries for the exchange of cotton and rubber signed in London, June 23, 1939.

Point No. 4 of that agreement provides that the rubber is to be used for war, to make immediate use of the cotton, which otherwise was to have been stored up as a war reserve.

Mobilize Farm Industry

To Insure Maximum Export Of Supplies To Great Britain

An agricultural supplies committee has been set up to mobilize the Canadian agricultural industry in order to facilitate the maximum export of agricultural supplies to Great Britain and her allies and to ensure domestic requirements. It was announced from the prime minister's office.

The committee was established on the recommendation of Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture. The members of the committee recommended are six officers of the department of agriculture: Chairman, A. M. Shaw, director of marketing; Dr. A. T. Charon, assistant deputy minister; R. S. Hamer, executive assistant; Dr. E. R. Archibald, director, Dominion experimental farms; G. B. Rothwell, director of production; and Dr. J. M. Swaine, director of research.

The announcement said:

"The objective of the committee is to keep agriculture functioning in a manner which will supply the food and fiber needs of the people of Canada and their allies in the war during the period of the war, and to leave the farmer, as far as possible, in a position to follow his natural peace-time pursuits at the end of the war. The methods by which the objective of the committee is to be achieved are as follows:

"1. Through co-operation with the provinces and appointment of advisory boards representative of the various provinces to assist the government in making the decisions reached and their objectives known to the farmer.

"2. Through regulation of distribution and purchase of feed, seed, and other materials for use in the production of farm products.

"3. Through negotiation or otherwise with the provinces and other agencies for the disposal of farm products consumed at home, and in the allied countries, in a manner that will ensure the industry necessary to a successful prosecution of the war, functioning efficiently and continuously."

Gave Poland A Seaboard

Spains Must Do Their Share Under Franco Regime

No one smiles at Polish place names in Germany. The dark irony of circumstance that lowers over all communities in Poland, and pours down bombs on it, is too grim. It is a happy time for a little town called Puck might have afforded humorists a lighter moment. But now it is a tragedy.

Puck is on the Gulf of Danzig, about ten miles north of Gdynia; a small town in Germany, a town of some 3,000 inhabitants. For many years it has been visited only by tourists who came to see its old houses and the remains of the city. On a height overlooking the bay stands a castle that was formerly the residence of the Duke of Pomerania. But to the Polish heart Puck is one of the most important names in history.

Turkish Leader Fearless

Pressure From Germany Did Not

Slight, gray-haired, sick-chinned General Ironside, right hand man and successor to the late, great Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, is peculiar among statesmen in that he is quite dead, says Time. President Ironside, who in his soldiering days wanted to go on fighting the Greeks long after the Ataturk knew he had been whipped, is also quite fearless. Into the dead ears of his master of the Dardanelles poured blatherings, at his stout heart were hurled threats, as Ambassador Franz von Papen sought to detach Turkey from its French-British guarantees, hook it to the Swastika.

To Turkey, old-time friend of the Soviet Union with which it shares the Black Sea, news of the German-Russian Pact was almost as serious a shock as it was to Germany's friend Japan. It came just as the king was dying on a French-Turkish trade pact. It also brought on what was later described as "extraordinary pressure" from Germany. Von Papen was given an hour in which to perform his suicide, belly act, then President Ironside made clear to France and Britain that he stood with them in the great line-up. Turkey, said her No. 1 editor, would stand with the Allies "even if the Reich were 10 times stronger."

Spain's Must Do Their Share Under Franco Regime

Even the ordinary Spaniard is a rather proud bomber. He does not like to be told what to do. More especially, he does not like to be commanded to do it. We imagine that still less will he be fangy being told to do 15 days' work for the state without pay. That he must do so forced labor is what has been decreed by the Franco regime. The only way for an able-bodied Spaniard to escape is to pay into a government agency 10 days' wages. There are classes in Spain which have not for generations been in the hands of the state. They are destined now for a taste of what reconstruction under a dictator means—Victoria, B.C., Times.

Spiritual Ruler Of Mohammedans Enjoins His Subjects To Support Cause

The Information Ministry in London announced that the Aga Khan, spiritual ruler of 10,000,000 Mohammedans in India, Africa and Central Asia, had called upon his subjects to give "unlimited service" to the cause for which Great Britain is fighting.

It was announced that the Aga Khan had sent the following message to the president of the Iqbal executive council in Zanzibar:

"It is the first religious and secular duty of all my spiritual subjects in Africa to co-operate loyally and do all in their power. Heartfelt, loyal, unstinted service is now being given to the cause of the Empire, which is the protector of our faith and liberty. This should be read after prayers daily and published."

The Empire affairs section of the Information Ministry's communiqué detailed pledges of assistance from British Guiana and Mauritius, an island of 400,000 people in the Indian Ocean.

It said the Governor of Southern Rhodesia had mobilized all forces in the territorial affairs force and their regional reserves in Salisbury, Bulawayo, Umtali and Queiro for active service "within or beyond the borders of the colony."
